CPYRGHT SO THEY SAY

Col. Lawrence K. White, deputy director of the Central Intelligence Agency, asserting that American news media provide mountains of information of value to a hostile nation: "It would take countless hours of painstaking research and a considerable expenditure of money for us to obtain comparable information on the Soviet Union." Rear Adm. Donald B. MacMillan, 79, returning from a schooner voyage to the Far North where winds reached a velocity of 120 miles an hour: "Never had anything like it for foul weather, but that makes it the more interesting. I'm planning to go back next year."	Frank Sain, Bridewell warden, on putting 10 ringleaders of a riot in solitary confinement: "I will be reasonable, but tough if I have to be." Mrs. Lloyd Brooks, 39, of Pittsfield, Me., already the mother of 14 daughters and awaiting the birth of her 15th child: "I think it's going to be a girl, and I hope I'm right."
